

Community Capital workshop set

Bellingham – An all-day workshop focused on the “Community Capital” ideal will be held Tuesday, June 14, as a pre-workshop to the 9th annual BALLE (Business Alliance for Local Living Economies) business conference also held in Bellingham that week. The Accelerating Community Capital Workshop “will use place as the lens to understand how to meet regional needs with regional resources, and identify the kinds of capital needed to get there. The day will feature 15 of the most promising pilot projects and innovators developing models for connecting regional investors with regional businesses.” Registration is $145 per person, and includes breakfast and lunch. Ideal participants include investors, businesspeople and community developers interested in creating new, community-based sources of debt or equity capital to support local living economies. For more information, visit www.livingeconomies.org/conference-2011-comm-cap-day