Audience: New farmers and the general public
 Sustainable Connections is growing this program in 2020 with the addition of Cloud Mountain Farm Center's educational programs. As the average farmer is 57 years old, we offer support for new farmers at every step of the journey:

- Internship program – A vocational learning program training prospective farmers
- Incubator program – Supporting new farms with land, shared infrastructure, and expertise
- Food To Bank On – Business training and practice growing for wholesale customers by growing for local food banks
